

Update from Katy, May 28, 2018

Dear Prayer Partners,

Warm greetings, writing now from the UK, having recently arrived back from Nigeria!

I have been very conscious of being prayed for during the time in Nigeria. I am thankful that translation checking goals for the Hohumono language, and then for Mbembe cluster were completed. It was a real blessing to work with dedicated translation teams. Please keep praying for Ern Ebak and John Afro as they lead the Mbembe project.

The schedule in Nigeria was stretching physically but I was well looked after at every stage. I am thankful too for safe travel where that is not to be taken for granted.

What lies ahead? In my last update I shared that the manuscript of the 4th edition of the Bible Translation training manual is now with the publishers. Thank you sincerely for your prayer help that made that possible! I need your ongoing prayers for the related work that still needs to be done: I have two tasks: (1) Review and update the practical teaching aids that go with this textbook, including about 50 PowerPoints. (2) Update the “Teacher’s Notes” handbook that accompanies the textbook – this is a big job and requires formatting. Pray for creative thinking and the ability to concentrate. Thank you for your faithful prayer partnership.

For relaxation, I am enjoying the challenge of trying to get my garden back into order – it badly needs attention!

Love and blessings,

Katy
