

Update from Katy Barnwell, May 30, 2019

Dear praying friends,

Warm greetings! First an update on the progress of the new edition of the Bible Translation training textbook and the Teacher's Manual that goes with it: I was encouraged by a comment in today's message from the editor: "I think we're Almost Done!" I am very grateful for prayer help and have been very aware of some clear answers to prayer!

I am also preparing for an unexpected assignment that has come up. From June 6th to 23rd, I am scheduled to be in Ghana to help facilitate a training workshop for a group preparing to serve as Bible translation consultants. There are over 30 participants registered, from across Africa. Many of these trainees have completed the translation of a Bible or New Testament into their own mother-tongue and are now preparing to help check other translations. Please pray for me for wisdom in making presentations, and for the ability to listen, mentor and encourage in all interactions.

I've been able to make progress on the Mbembe dictionary, thanks to the outstanding help of a colleague who is an expert in the computer program into which the data, collected over many years, has now been successfully transferred. It is a great blessing to see how the Lord provides the team help we need in the body of Christ.

Thank you for praying! Needing your team help! Love and blessings,

Katy
